

A UNIQUE PRODUCT

- It is produced in accordance with all standard door handles, right and left.
- It can be installed simply by replacing the old door handle.
- It is a patented product.
- With the use of the door handle, it enables the user to disinfect his hand necessarily.
- Our disinfectant with 85% European standards, produced only for our product, provides protection from other epidemic diseases including Covid.

PRODUCT FEATURES

Thanks to its easy use and cartridge-operated system, It is a product that can be used wherever there is a door handle without having to deal with filling operations.

Our product is designed to be compatible with both right and left doors. It is a system prepared to make hygiene standard in our daily life.

CONTACT US

☎ +971 04 3213343

✉ Sales@3comtrade.com

📍 Dubai, UAE

INNOVATION IN HAND HYGIENE

It is a user and environmentally friendly product with a cartridge system designed for door handles to prevent bacteria from contaminating our hands.

USAGE

SOME APPLICATIONS AREA

Hospitals, Health Facilities

The Use is especially recommended in hospitals where most germs occur. Even if several disinfectant dispensers are attached to the walls. The disinfectant that automatically reaches the hands when touching the door handle means maintaining the sterile environment for the patient without the need for extra effort. A healthy person who has been in the hospital, visiting a relative in the hospital room, or has used the toilet is at a higher risk of infection from germs. For this reason, it is expected that it will find widespread use, especially in hospitals.

Workplaces

According to a study conducted in the UK, it has been found that in office space, the essential technology of our time - the computer - is 400 times dirtier and houses more bacteria than toilet seats.

It has been discovered that on computer keyboards there are on average 7500 species of germs. In an environment where there are 7500 types of germs alone on the keyboard, despite regular cleaning, the existence of millions of bacteria cannot be ruled out.

Thanks to the sterile product, you will be able to work in peace in a more hygienic environment, without having to worry about the transmission of bacteria through door handles or people.

Homes

it is not a product that will only be used in public areas, but also a product that you can also use at home. Especially if you have a baby, pets, children or family members with illness complaints at home, this product is highly recommended. For example, people with weak immune systems are more susceptible to disease than healthy people. Unlike people, their disease is prolonged and more severe. That is why it is very important that you live in a hygienic way at home, where you feel most comfortable.

Sales@3comtrade.com

office : +971 04 3213343

Dubai, UAE